The rule, favorably to those who have won success, is to be deplored for one tendency that may come with the inspiration of the Sun's benefic aspect. It is held to encourage ambition and to foment jealousies.

Men in places of the Sun may be inclined to envy that inspires strategy and selfish plots. As persons in all the higher vocations are vulnerable, warning is given that meekness is a virtue. Army officers, diplomats and statesmen may be effected by the virus of dangerous ambition.

ABUNDANT-Eggplant, peppers, tomatoes, potatoes, cooking apples, grapes, sweet corn.

NORMAL—Cantaloupes, pears, celery, carrots, kale, onlous, cabbage, cucumbers.

SCARCE—String beans, enting apples, peaches, bananas, spinach, oranges, beets.

SWEET CORN TAKES A DROP.

Sweet corn was received in large supply this morning and the price was lower. During the early morning hours retailers paid 40 cents per dozen for the best sweet corn at the Haskell Farmers' Market. After 7:30 the same grade of corn was obtained for 25 cents.

Farmers are bringing in large quantities of silage corn because of the attractive prices that have been received for any kind of green corn. This silage corn is good eating when tender, but it soon gets tough and undesirable for a table corn. Silage corn cost retailers from 10 to 20 cents per dozen ears this morning. Consumers paying sweet corn prices should make sure that they get the sweet product and not the silage corn. If the silage corn is young and tender it will be found fairly good eating, but it lacks the sweetness of the true sweet corn.

PEACHES HIGHER AND SCARCER

PEACHES HIGHER AND SCARCER.

Comparatively few peaches were available on the wholesale market this morning and prices were generally higher. The Belle of Georgia and Elberta varieties were offered to retailers in bushel baskets at from $3.00 to $4.25 according to quality. This makes the retailer's cost approximately from 20 to 28 cents per quarter peck. Crates holding six of the 4-quart baskets sold from $3.00 to $4.25 per crate, which is equivalent to 58 to 71 cents per 4-quart basket as the retailer's cost.

PLENTY OF PEPPERS AVAILABLE.

Lovers of stuffed peppers, pepper salads, pickles, or any of the many pepper dishes will find a fine assortment from which to make their purchases. There are hot peppers and sweet peppers, large peppers and small ones, green peppers and red ones. The green, sweet peppers are the most plentiful and the prevailing cost to the retailer today was 75 cents per crate or from 1/2 to 3/2 of a cent per pepper.
